The Warhammer 40,000 League-Pain! This is a series of games set in the Warhammer 40,000 universe. The League-Pain is set in two different warzones; Armageddon & The Ryon Crusade. Each game played in Mountain Gremlin Games will be set in a Warzone and fought for a different faction. You must decide which before playing the game.

Each game played will be set in a Warzone as part of a faction. Points will be scored for gaming as well as painting. Before each is game played it will need to be recorded as a conflict in a Warzone, and fighting with a faction. The record will need to make sense within the background of the 40k universe.

Within each faction there will be regular prizes for the faction, and the highest scoring player overall. At the end of the League-Pain the highest scoring player overall will be declared winner. Weekly bonus points will be announced as play continues.

Registration opens May 30th. Play will continue until September 26th. Player may register at any time. To register in the LeaguePain you will need access to sci-fi miniatures. Then chose at least one faction, and a preferred Warzone. If you are taking part in the Crusade, then you will need a Crusade Order of Battle, Codex for you faction, and battle ready miniatures.

Splinter fleets still roam the galaxy and organisms are present on many space hulks. For scoring purposes, Tyranids represent their own faction outside of either Warzone, their opponent will still encounter them in their own Warzone.

Games Played

Whilst the main focus of the League-Pain is games of Warhammer 40,000 and Kill Team. Pretty much any game set in the Warhammer 40,000 universe is viable for inclusion. A game of Necromuna could represent a conflict in either Warzone.

Classic Games

The Armageddon wars have been a part of 40K since Rogue Trader. Playing an older version of 40K, Space Hulk or even the board game of Battle for Armageddon can be recorded as a valid game.

Other games...

Non GW games could represent an unusual conflict in any Warzone. A Deadzone game involving GCPS VS Marauders could represent a PDF taking on the Blood Axe tribe of Orks.
